LOGO

nalle = IPA: 'nal:e'

word origins:

in Swedish = teddy bear

in Hindi = good in Tamil = 4

in Numerology, the number "4" is the number of order in the universe:

- the four elements of earth, air, fire, water;
- the four points of the compass;
- the four phases of the Moon (new, half-moon waxing, full, half-moon waning);
- the four seasons.

Sweet Dreams

Body text will be styled with the 'regular' font using the gray shown in the color palette. A calming color in comparison to 100% black is applied to the typeface to intentionally induce calm in the reader. Body text with the lighter font is well kered and easy to read.

TYPOGRAPHY

The sans serif font in the body copy will support the minimal and clean atheistic of the site. The line weight of both the body copy and head fonts is thin to purposefully feel light.

PHOTOGRAPHY

The user should be drawn to each photo rather than the design of the minimalistic site. Photos should show the product in use by the baby and evoke a sense of calm, trust, comfort, and love. Colored backgrounds should be neutral so that the baby and product are the main focus of the imagery.

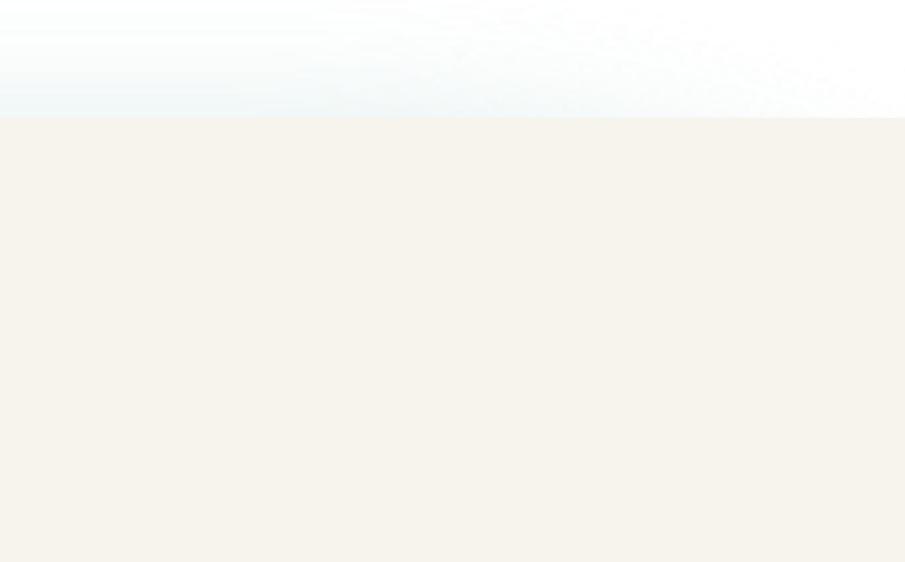

ILLUSTRATION

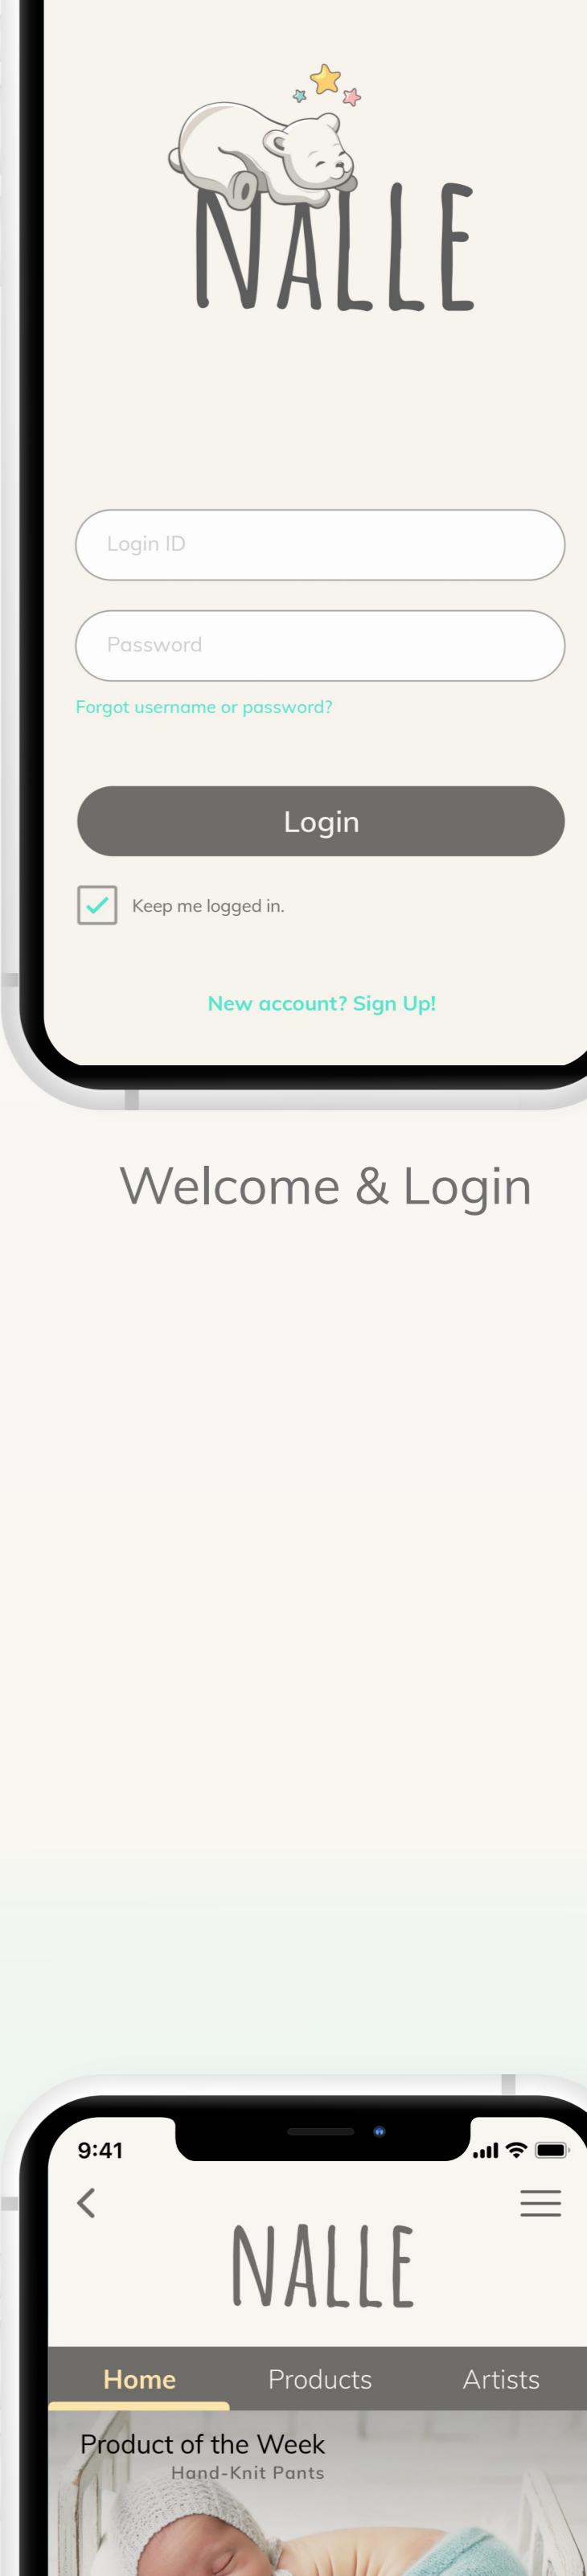

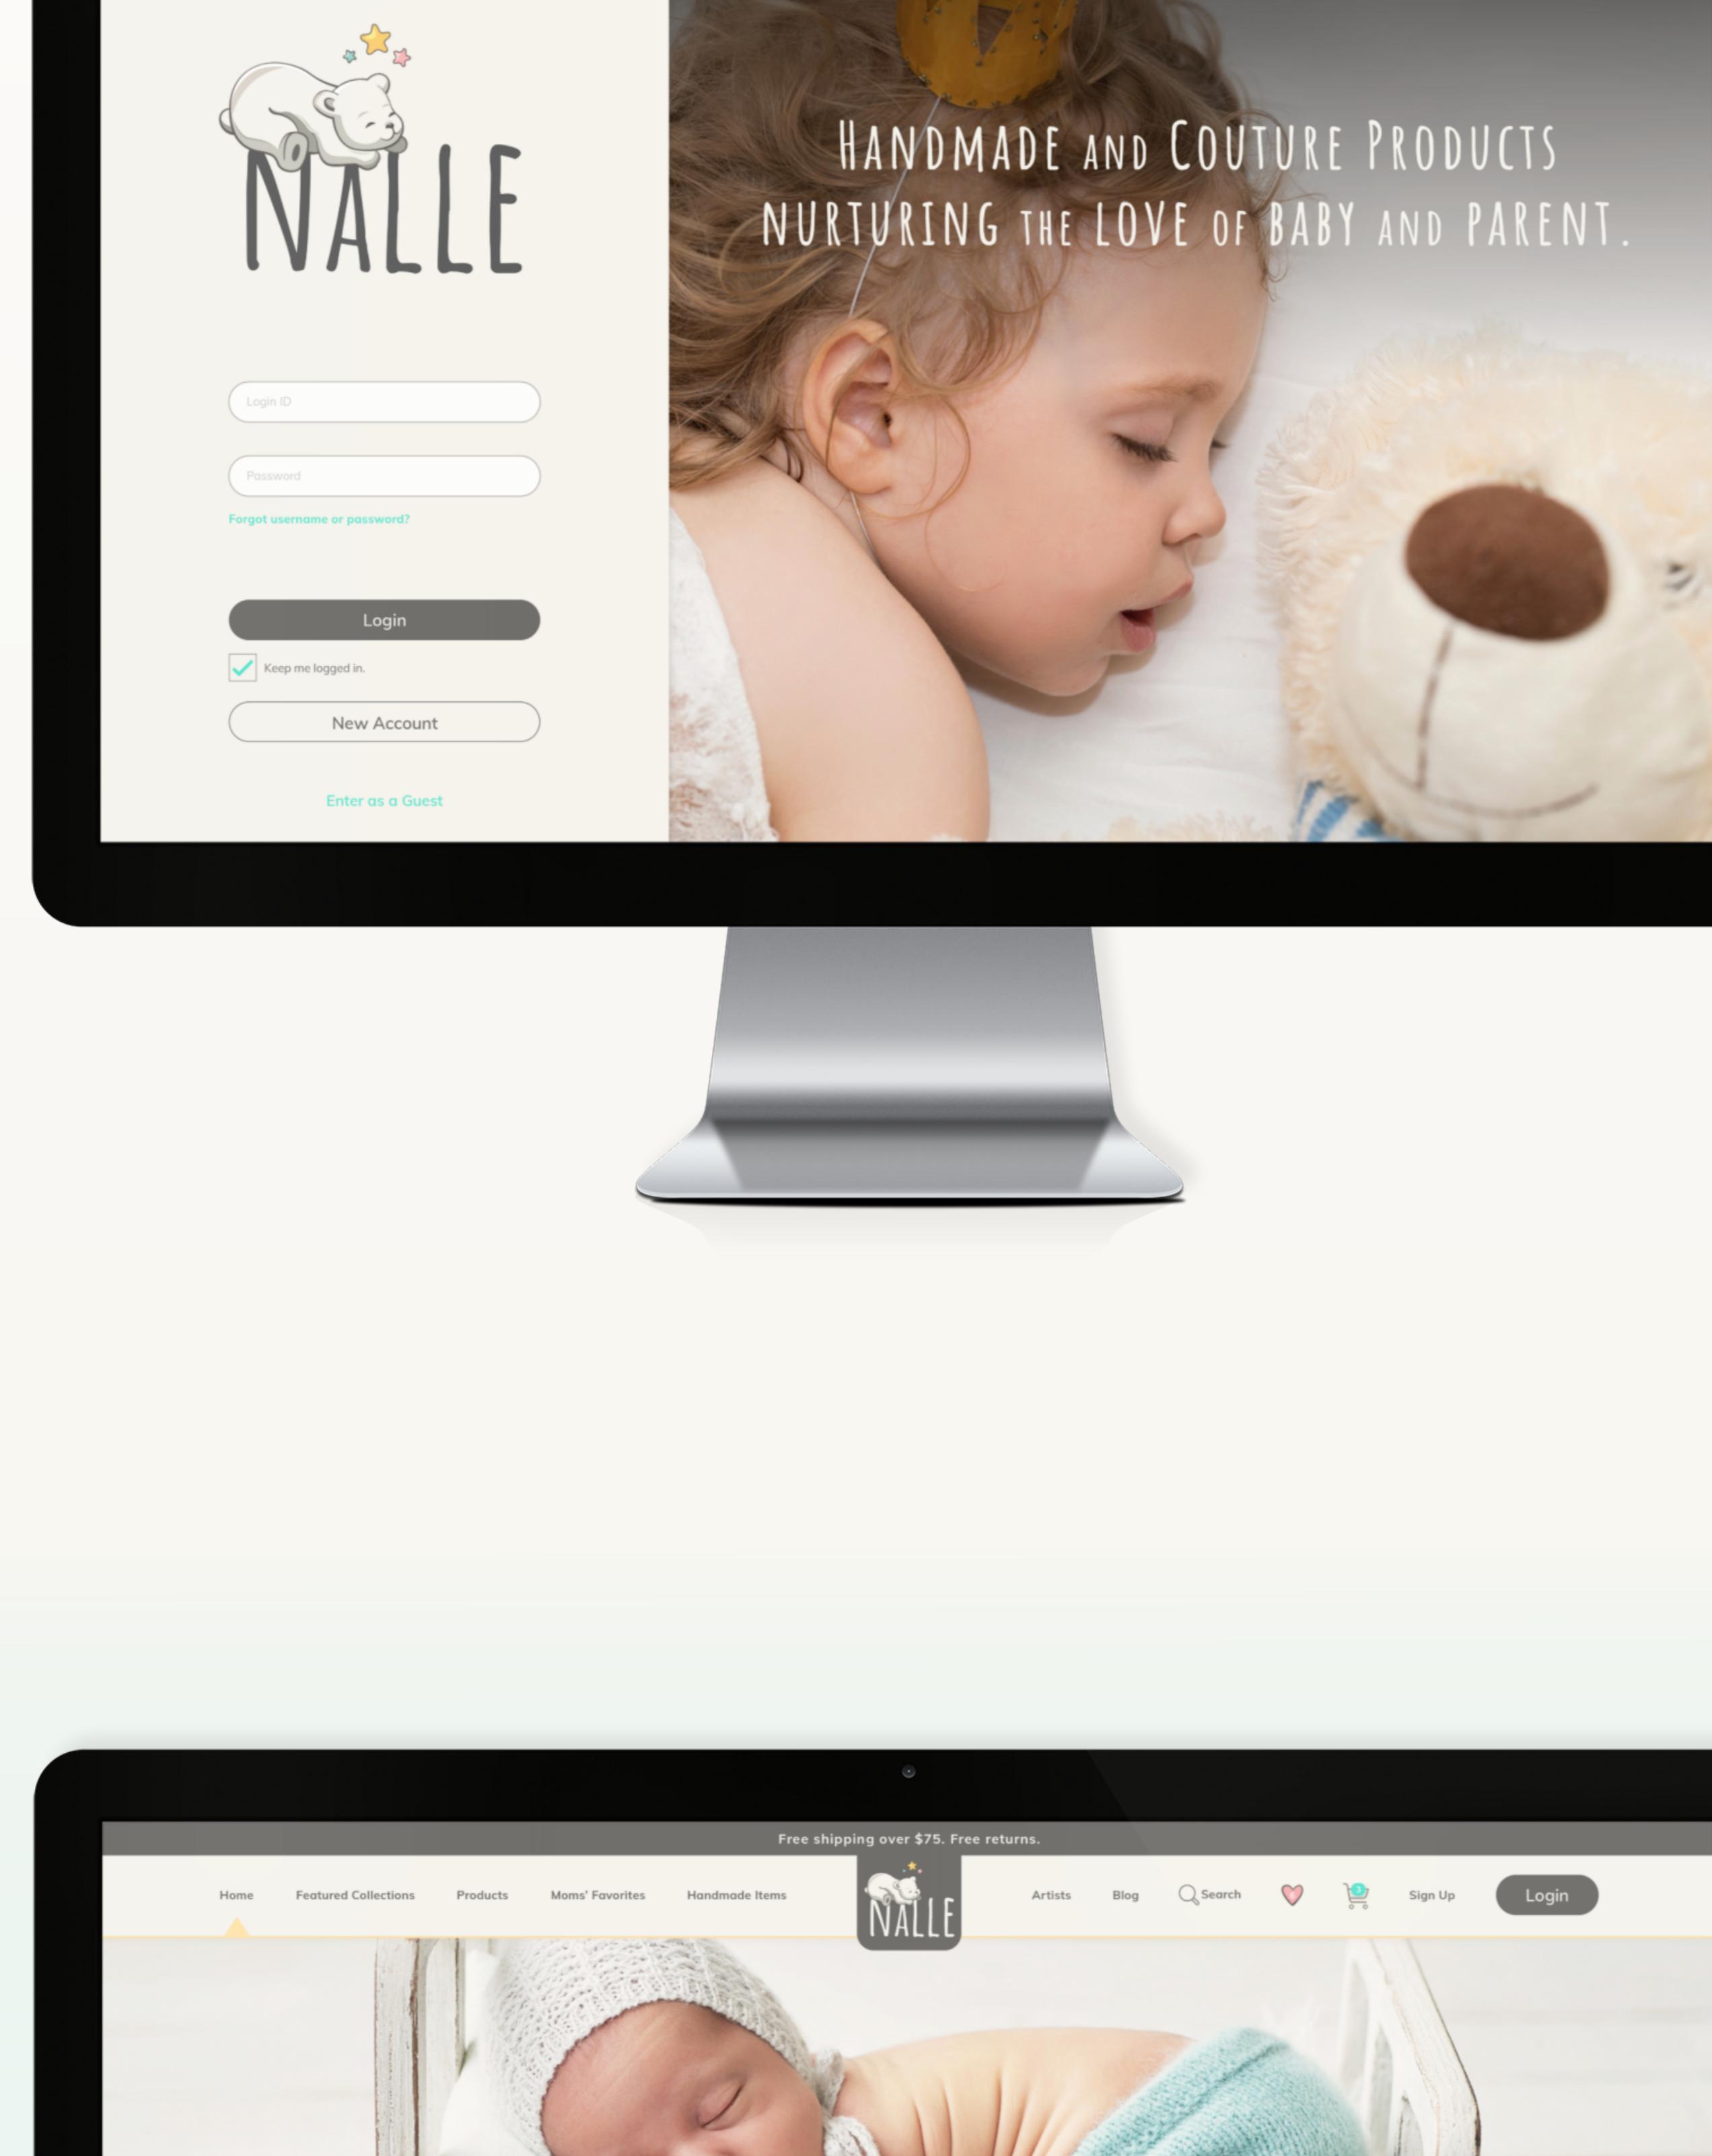

There will be stylized illustrations throughout which may be paired with the logo as long as they do not cover the typeface of the logo itself. Neutral body with minor use of secondary colors from palette.

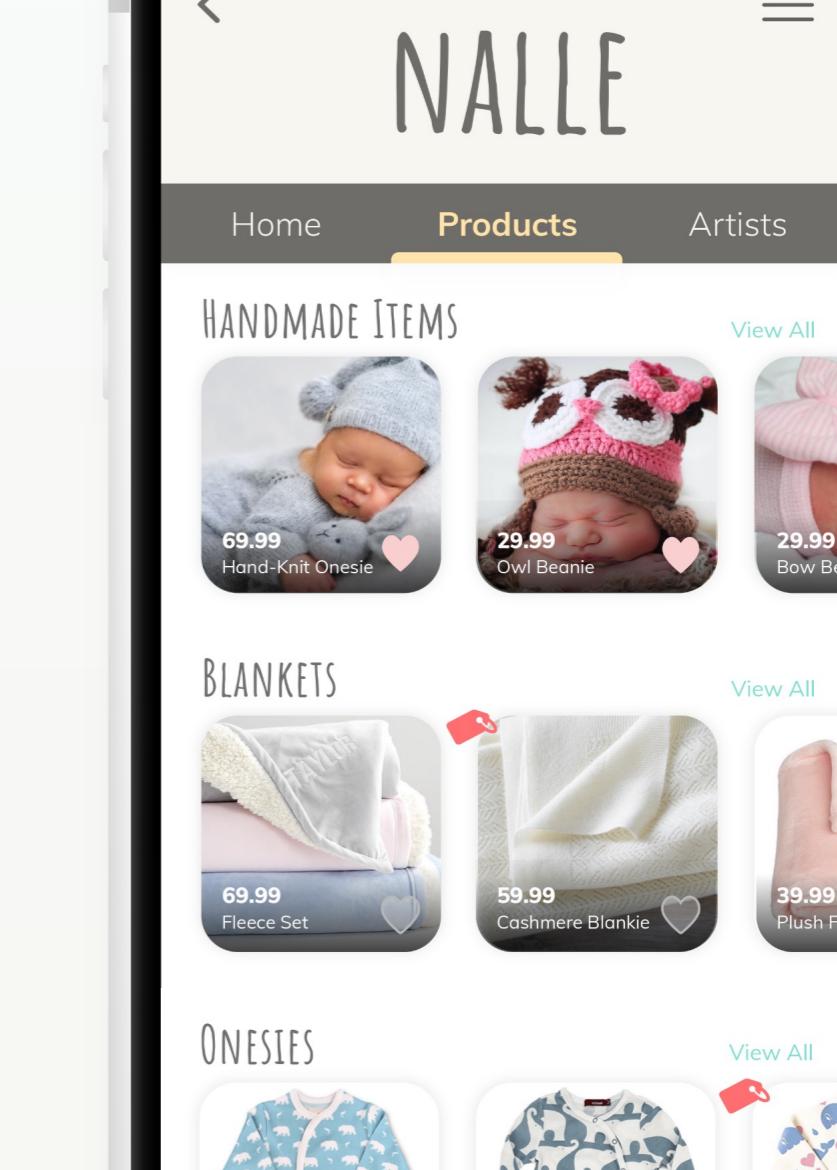

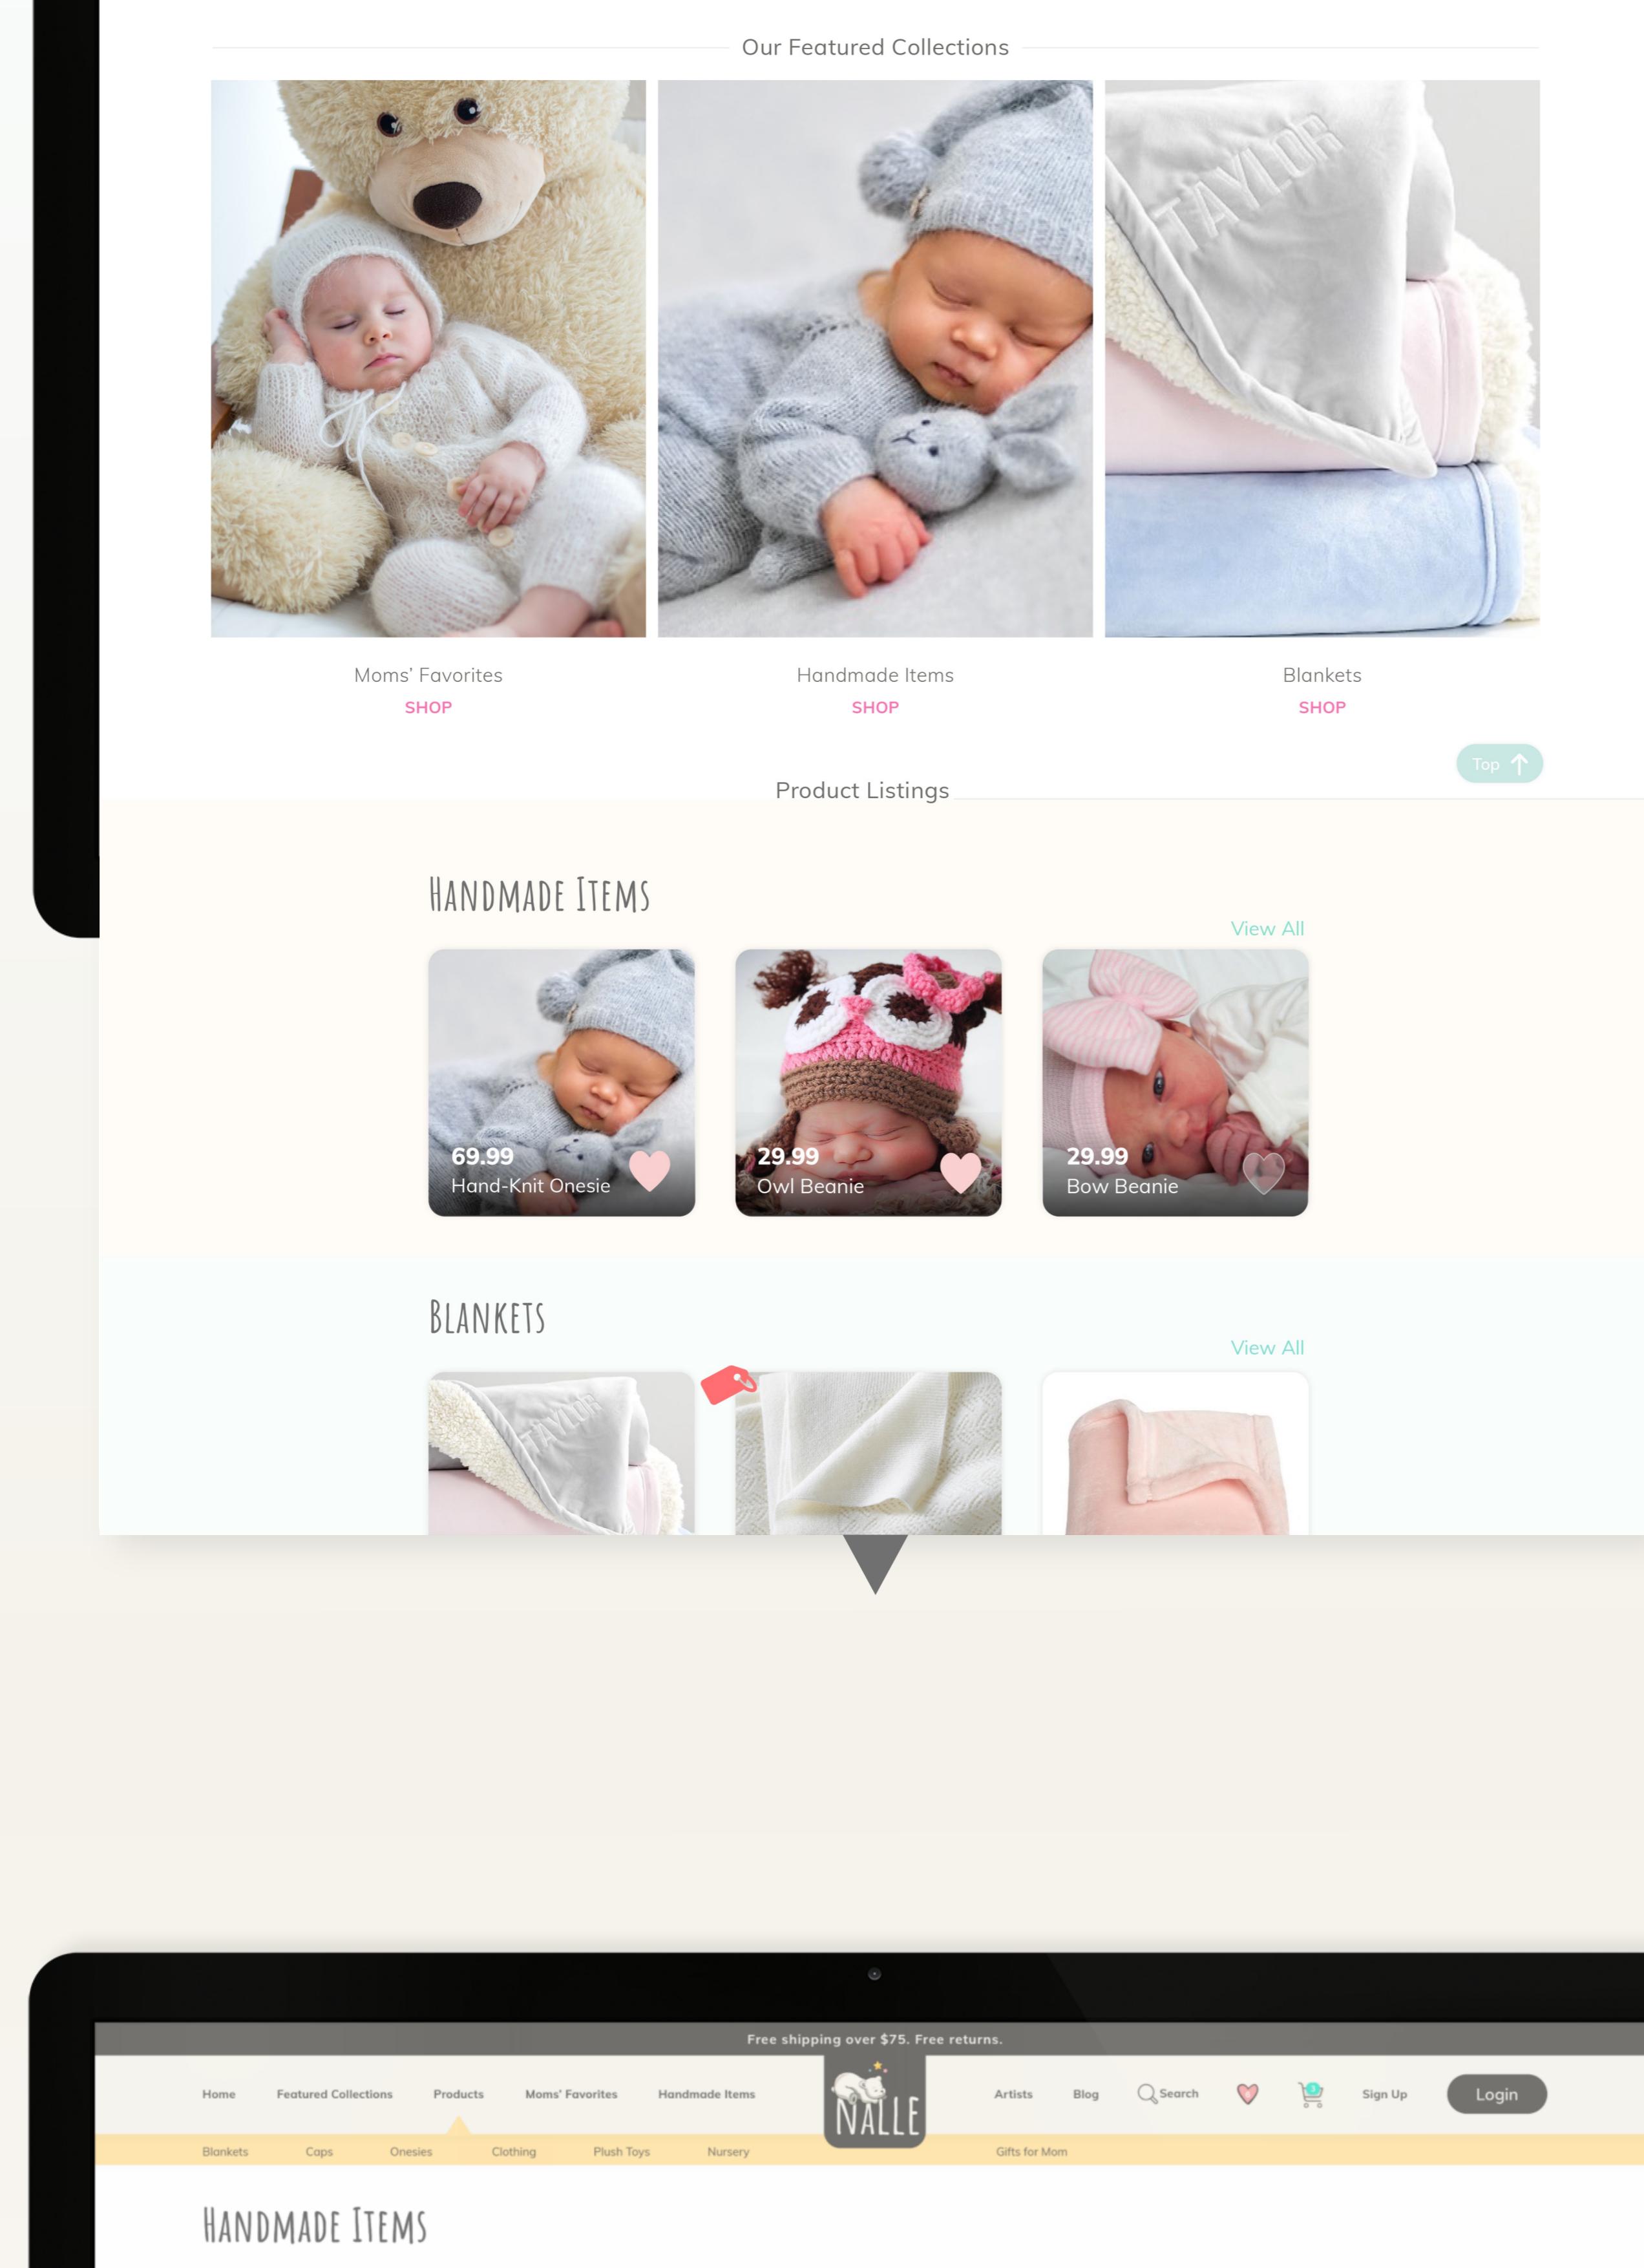

WRITING

Short descriptions with no superfluous verbiage—let the photo sell the product. Photography should be close to children's faces when possible so that the sweetness of the child is seen. The writing should be casual as if talking with a family member whom there is great affection. The user should feel as if there is a familiarity with the writer. Intention of the writing should be filled with care and nurturing words for the parent who is navigating their most important duty of caring for a new human life.
